TRADITION

For over 500 years, the Alvarez de Toledo family has been producing some of the world's finest olive oils on the Perales de Valdueza estate. Located on the site of a former Roman province, the land actually has an unbroken tradition of olive oil production dating back more than two thousand years. Under the direction of olive oil expert Cristino Lobillo Rios, the optimum maturity and amounts of each variety of olive used for the final blend are calculated and designed for optimal fragrance, fresh fruity flavor, stability, balance, and total harmony.
